ZANZIBAR PAPER MONEY

By

JAMES KIRKWOOD AND COL. JAMES W. CURTIS

ZANZIBAR, a British protectorate, is an island 23 miles off the western coast of Africa. This 640 square mile island came under the protection of Britain in 1890, under an agreement by which the British renounced claims to Helgoland in favor of Germany, and to Madagascar in favor of France.

Included in the political unit is the island of Pemba, 25 miles to the northeast, comprising 380 square miles. The 299,000 people of the unit are governed by a Sultan, currently Seyyid Sir Khalifa Bin Harub, although administration is under the control of a British Resident.

The predominant religion is Islamic. The growing and harvesting of cloves is the chief occupation of both islands, which together furnish the bulk of the world supply. A total of 4,750,000 clove trees are estimated to be in cultivation. Secondary exports include cocoanuts and copra. Principal manufactures are rope, fibers, mats, oil and jewelry.

The Zanzibar government issued notes dating from 1908 to 1935. All are considered very rare by paper money collectors of the world. The notes are printed in three languages: English, Malay-Persian, and Indian.

More Color Needed in Our Currency

By

MICHAEL SHUWARGER

Reprinted from Congressional Record, February 4, 1960

IT IS surprising that we Americans who welcome periodic changes in almost everything around us have never raised a voice in protest against the eternal sameness of the product we handle most frequently—money currency. We look impatiently toward the unveiling of the new automobile styles, talk excitedly about the latest fashions, queue up for a look at a model house, but don't seem to mind it a bit that the color of our paper money has not changed for as many years as anyone can remember.

Ever since the first Treasury notes were issued in 1862 to finance the Civil War, the U. S. paper currency has always been green on one side. In 1928 the size of the bills was trimmed down to 6 $\frac{7}{8}$ by 2 $\frac{1}{4}$ inches. but the color has never been changed. True enough, our main interest in money is its purchasing power, not its visual appeal. Few of us, if any, look at it from the point of view of artistic satisfaction, although the skill and the imagination that enter into the engraving and printing of our dollar bills are on a par with the most elaborate works of art.

Much more important than the esthetic consideration is the need to increase the visual differences among the various currency denominations. At present all U. S. money, from the lowly dollar bill to the almost mythical $10,000 note, is green on one side and drab gray on the other. Such uniformity makes it necessary to examine closely every bill to avoid mistakes in counting money. We must look very carefully at every note to make sure that no $5 bill is paid out when only a dollar was intended. Errors directly traceable to the great similarity of the various denominations are considerable. In banking firms and other institutions where a tremendous turnover of paper currency is routine, the strain on the clerks counting money is always very heavy.

Why not keep the green color of the dollar bill as a bow to tradition, but make the $5 denomination, let us say, red, and the $10 one blue? We can use other colors to brighten up bills of higher value, for example, orange for $20, silver for $100, and shiny gold for a thousand dollar note.

If the various denominations were distinguishable by colors, the sorting of money would no longer be an eye-blinding task. A bank teller could go through a wad of paper currency and quickly separate the various kinds of bills. It would be possible to glance into our wallets and without any effort pick out the denomination we want.

There is also another benefit to be derived. The introduction of different colors into our money would make many counterfeiters unhappy. In the past the manufacturing of phony bills often involved no more than the raising of the value of the denomination, such as the changing of $1 to $10 by adding a zero. The forgers got away with it because few people can remember what men's portraits belong on different notes, and those who do hardly bother to look at the exact design. If a $10 bill were different in color from a $1 bill, the simple addition of a zero would no longer do the trick. The counterfeiters would have to design complete plates if they were to stay in business.

What possible objections could there be to a new look in our currency? Certainly there is nothing sacrosanct about the green color on all our folding money. No additional cost of printing new notes is involved, for old plates can be used, and it is quite obvious that blue or red ink costs no more than green.

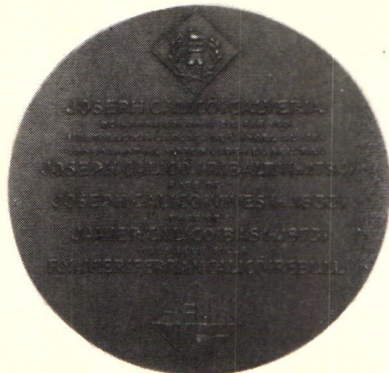

Just a trifle more costly would be another possible improvement in our paper currency. A tiny perforation or an embossment somewhere on the note would make it possible to identify money by touch. This would be an immense boon to the blind or to the people with poor eyesight who are frequently swindled when dealing with conscienceless crooks.

In some foreign countries the distinction among the denominations is achieved through variations in size of different banknotes. The advantages of easy identification, moreover, are more than offset by the awkwardness of handling paper currency which is hard to fit into a billfold and is otherwise not easy to manage. The American system is much superior to most foreign currencies and could be made nearly perfect if the traditional greenbacks were to be joined by bluebacks, redbacks, and goldbacks.

Calicó Family Commemorative Medal

To commemorate the one hundred and seventy-fifth anniversary of the establishment of the Calicó family at the Plaza del Ángel, 3, Barcelona, Spain, F. Xavier and Fernando Calicó have struck the bronze medal illustrated here exact size. The obverse shows the Angel which was originally in the plaza and is now housed in the city's historical museum. The reverse portrays the shields of Santa Coloma de Farnés and Barcelona. The family has occupied the corner building between Plaza del Ángel and Calle de Tapineria since 1784 and follows the numismatic profession started by Don José Calicó y Vives three generations ago.

President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana and President Sekou Toure of Guinea have discussed plans for a common currency for their countries and central reserve bank to back up this money.

A Stone Is Moved

No, there were no coins found under this stone. Where it came from, many coins were made.

The stone which was moved was a doorsill from the middle doorway of the Seventh Street building of the old U. S. Mint in Philadelphia, erected in 1792. Much thought was given to a heading for this story, for only those fortunate enough to own a copy of Frank H. Stewart's First United States Mint, Its People and Its Operation would know of the stone. He was an electrical contractor who bought the former Mint property to construct his own building. Although five hundred copies of this book were printed in 1924, unverified reports say that three hundred were destroyed.

When these Mint buildings were being demolished in 1911, Dr. John C. Curry, a dentist, took this stone by wagon across the ferry to his home in Woodbury, N. J. Four years ago I went to the Curry residence where the doctor's son, also a dentist, still lived until recently. The property has been sold, but the writer is pleased to have had a small part in having the stone given to the Gloucester County Historical Society of Woodbury, N. J.

An interesting story comes from William H. Chew, 92, of Sinnickson, Chew & Sons, printers of Stewart's book. Frank Steward applied for a job and the foreman inadvertently entered the name as "Stewart." From then on Stewart used that spelling.

This book is in the A.N.A. Library (S-6 in the Library catalog). It is recommended to those who wish to know more of the history of our coinage. — H. B. COLE, A.N.A. No. 12394

Nigerian Currency. By the end of 1959, according to the first annual report of the Central Bank of Nigeria for the period ending March 31, 1960, £45.5 million of Nigerian notes had been issued. It is estimated that by the end of March, 1960, all except £1.5 million of the old notes had been withdrawn from circulation. Since the provision of sufficient strong-room accommodation presented a major problem, the timing of the beginning of the new issue (on July 1, 1959) was determined by the fact that the amount of currency in circulation is normally at its lowest in the middle of the year. The issue of the new Nigerian coins has proceeded more slowly. The minting of the 1,066 million pieces that are required will not be completed until mid-1961. Emphasis has been placed first on the issue of shilling coins, but considerable supplies of new pennies have also been put into circulation, the total amount of these two coins in circulation at the end of 1959 being £9.1 million. The report notes with satisfaction a marked increase in the proportion of notes to total circulation, from 59.1 per cent at the end of 1956 to 67.1 per cent at the end of 1959. It is hoped that the introduction of the 5s. note, more than four million of which were in circulation at the end of 1959, will help in this change of pattern.

Museum's 1,000,000th Visitor

Miss Ruth Mayer, 20, of Milwaukee, Wis., the one millionth visitor at The Chase Manhattan Bank Museum of Moneys of the World, received gifts including a $100 savings account Tuesday afternoon from Harold F. Moeller (left), bank executive vice president. Vernon L. Brown, museum curator, offered his congratulations also. To mark the occasion, the bank presented Miss Mayer with a $100 savings account; a set of 1960 U. S. proof coins, specially minted in high luster as collectors' items; a good luck token; the museum's first souvenir medalion; and an orchid. The money museum opened May 13, 1929.

Museum's 10,000th Visitor

Elaine Herman, who is "almost 13" and lives at 19457 Washburn, Detroit, was the 10,000th person to visit the Money Museum of the National Bank of Detroit since its opening in May. In honor of the occasion Rear Admiral Oscar H. Dodson, director, presented her with a mint set of six silver coins which included a United States dollar, a British crown, a Canadian dollar, a Portuguese escudo, a Danish five kroner and the famous Maria Theresa thaler. Elaine is an 8B student at MacDowell school and under the instructions of her brother, Edward, 18, is becoming a coin collector in her own right.

ROLL COLLECTING? WHY NOT?

During the last few months we find many questioning the wisdom of acquiring rolls of uncirculated U. S. coins. The arguments are:

It is unscientific
It is speculative
It creates artificial rarities
It attracts irresponsible traders

As a professional numismatist for over thirty years, I have gone through the cycle in which the arc of "speculation in commemoratives," the arc of "hoarding of proof sets," the arc of "investing in gold coins" and the arcs of fixed price lists, spectacular auction sales, want lists and direct advertising media all played their respective and important roles.

Let me first state, I do not disagree with the arguments against roll collecting. In fact, for many years, I used these arguments to discourage a great number of people from tying up their funds in rolls.

Now, we have no argument on these points. But we are in disagreement on the conclusion. Are these valid reasons why one should refrain from Roll Collecting? I maintain not. In fact, I suggest that these very reasons, used against roll collecting, are also applicable against the "more legitimate" coins.

I present this plea for coexistence — let those who want to buy rolls, do so. As for the others, there are many coins which they can continue to buy without regard to rolls.

My early days in the coin business coincided with the stock market crash. It took a little time for the price of gold coins to be affected, however. I recall being paid $200.00 for a piece of jewelry with ten St. Gaudens double eagles, Roman Numerals, wire edge. It seemed a shame to deposit such beautiful coins in the bank. Yet, no one seemed to want them. I convinced a jeweler friend to put five of them away, at face value. Reluctantly, I deposited the others. The five pieces which were deposited went the way of all gold — melted by the governments. The five coins in which my friend "speculated" were preserved for collectors and have since come back into the numismatic stream.

I recall the "commemorative racket" quite well. It all started very innocently. In New York City, old Joe Barnet used to be the dealer's dealer. Joe would buy a hundred or more of the new issues of commemorative half dollars. Invariably, the price at the commission was $1.00 per coin. Joe would sell five or ten at a time to the coin dealers at $1.25 each and they, in turn, would resell to collectors at $1.50 per coin.

Some months later, the retail price was up to $2.00 or $2.50 or even $3.00. The collector decided to buy directly from the commission at $1.00 per coin — and why not get two coins? Or five? Or even a hundred? So, they did. Then they would resell the coins at a profit. The coins they retained were at no cost. The vest pocket dealer was born!

What had been accomplished? Many commemoratives which would have remained unsold, been returned to the mint and destroyed were kept by the speculator as a reserve against future demands. The many new collectors could not have been supplied if these reserves were nonexistent. An Albany half dollar would bring no less than $50.00, a Robinson $30.00, etc.

So what about our arguments that this roll business is speculative? Does speculation hurt numismatics? Hardly.

Is roll collecting any less scientific than commemorative hoarding? The scientific angle is applied when the individual coin is considered. The coin is as scientifically interesting, be it held between the thumb and index finger or if it is in the center of a roll of fifty coins!

Does it create artificial rarities? Yes, I think so. But I maintain that eventually the exact opposite is true. Coins which would otherwise have become very rare, become available by permitting us to draw against the reserves held by speculators or investors. Thus, it serves an important function, preventing runaway prices later on.

It is argued that the roll business has attracted irresponsible traders. Again, I agree. So did the commemorative racket, so did a similar surge in proof sets in the early 1940s. So did the gold coin spurt. The bigger the coin business gets, the more people will become involved. A percentage of these newcomers will be irresponsible — it is up to the buyer to select a responsible dealer with whom he can trade with confidence. This is so if he wants to buy a roll of Lincoln cents or a rare ancient gold coin.

One argument which the dealer in classical coins does not mention but which he recognizes is that he fears that the purchasing power is being diverted from his wares to the rolls. If this were true, it would not be a valid argument against roll collecting, hence it remains unstated.

I do not agree, however, that it is true. Yes, some serious collectors may divert part of their "coin money" to rolls. The fact is, however, that the roll money is, to a great extent, new money invested by people who were far from the coin games and who are only now being introduced to it. Of even greater weight is the fact that, once introduced, the new investor branches out into "legitimate" numismatics. I know a collector who does not hesitate to spend $2,000.00 for a coin yet three years ago could not pronounce "numismatist." He started by collecting rolls and proof sets. Now he owns very little of the latter but is proud of a fine numismatic collection.

These experiences caused me to change my tune. As I have stated previously, I discouraged many a potential roll collector. In those days, there were four large holdings of rolls. If one of these holdings had been forced on the market, a collapse was inevitable; certainly a good reason to discourage investors. This situation hardly prevails today. Today, the base is broad. There are a number of large holdings, there are many sizable holdings, there are tens of thousands of small holdings.

No one large holding can hurt today's market because there are groups which would buy up any deals no matter how big. Several months ago a deal was in the fire for half a million dollars worth of rolls at full retail price as advertised in one of the trade journals that month. The buyers were ready — it was the seller who changed his mind. Hardly a dangerous market, you must agree!

We will agree, I think, that our scientific approach must be to the coin, the individual coin. The roll does not add, nor does it detract — the coin is still there.

The speculative angle and the creation of artificial rarities tend to help rather than hinder the supply of coins and consequently keep the price down rather than up.

The question of irresponsible dealers is not unique to the roll business. Buyers should select responsible dealers before making any purchase, be it a roll or a rarity.

The conclusion seems reasonable — it will hurt no one, roll collector or savant. Let them both be! — A. KOSOFF

WORLD COMMEMORATIVE COINS

By

THOMAS W. BECKER, A.N.A. No. 31714

MANY years have passed since the once great abundance of world commemorative coins filled the cabinets of watchful collectors. The appearance and disappearance of the coins during the last sixty years have brought some very interesting changes in regard to the number issued for certain years. Viewed in perspective, these changes take the form of the familiar pendulum's swing beginning at low ebb just after the turn of the twentieth century, swelling appreciably, and then suddenly dropping. From present indications, the pendulum is again starting its outward swing disclosing a growing abundance of commemoratives.

These changes in some measure can be accounted for by the simple facts of history which will be reviewed shortly. Meanwhile it might be well to examine the previous sixty years' issue of commemoratives in a statistical light to determine if any definite conclusions can be reached.

Following is a graph showing the number of commemorative types issued for a given year, excluding gold pieces, from all the countries of the world. One characteristic needs clarifying. For some countries, a commemorative coin was issued for several succeeding years in addition to the original year. Thus Finland's Olympic commemorative, struck in 1951-52, was included in the latter year because they all were not released until 1952. In regard to the United States, a coin was identified only once on the graph—in the original year of issue, and subsequent years were disregarded as misleading. The year of issue, then, is defined as the first year only.

A cursory examination of the graph shows the rich and lean years of commemorative issues, and especially the year 1936. Also, a certain continuous rhythm can be found over this sixty year period disturbed only by the anomaly of 1936:

The lean years are —

- 1900 to 1910: Years of depression-recovery
- 1915 to 1924: World War I years and recovery
- 1940 to 1947: World War II years and recovery

The rich years are —

- 1910 to 1915: Prewar years (prosperity, expanding industry)
- 1925 to 1939: Depression and prewar years
- 1948 to 1959: Years of recovery and prosperity

The shortage of commemorative pieces during the lean years can be accounted for mostly by the social ravages and economic pressures of war, the great military need for metals, and other pursuits of a military nature. The rich years bring prosperity to governments during recovery, and in general certain feelings of high spirit, faith in the future, and a world-air of optimism and happiness. Nations are recovering from wars, from a depression, and the future looks relatively bright.

The two enigmas of such a statistical approach to the matter are the year 1936, and the period during the "Great Depression" of 1929-34. The abundance of commemoratives in 1936 can be explained away rather readily: The United States issued fifteen different types

1940 to 1949: 27 issued

From this listing, then, it cannot be argued that the years 1930-39 are far ahead of the others. It is interesting to note that the decades immediately following wars show similar rates of recovery as indicated by the number of coin types issued. That is, 1920 to 1929 created sixty issues; 1947 to 1957 created sixty-seven issues. It would be interesting to study world coinage produc-

which accounts for nearly half the coins for that year. The problem of the "Great Depression" and the comparatively large number of coins issued during these years remains to be solved, except that the graph shows a definitive series of alternating peaks and valleys which implies an unsteady succession of issues.

If we consider commemoratives by decades, one fact is immediately apparent: The 1930s was the golden age of world commemoratives, as the following shows —

 1910 to 1919: 59 issued
 1920 to 1929: 60 issued
 1930 to 1939: 115 issued

tion figures for these two decades to learn if the same similarity exists.

Another sidelight might also be examined: The two decades containing war years. World War I occupied roughly the second half of the decade 1910 to 1919, whereas World War II occupied the first half of the decade 1940 to 1949. The differences here can be seen more clearly in the following:

The first half of the World War I decade, 1910-1914, produced thirty-nine commemoratives; the second half, 1915-1919, nineteen. The first half of the World War II decade, 1940-1944, only five commemorative pieces were issued; the second half, 1945-1949, twenty-two pieces were issued.

Therefore, the direct effect of the war years had considerable effect at the same time on the issue of commemoratives. Comparatively speaking the effects of World War II were felt considerably more in commemorative coins than the effects of World War I.

Perhaps this attempt to apply statistics to a particular field of numismatics bears out the truth of the belief that numismatics touches endless other fields and professions. Money, as such, performs not only an economic function but a social one as well, and therefore we who call ourselves numismatists must view money and its functions from every possible standpoint. That the number of commemorative coins created during certain periods of historical time show changes in their numerical abundance, and correspond generally to similar changes in social and economic factors, indicates that coins mirror the changing times. It is this very quality that makes numismatics a challenge and an inspiration. Thus, perhaps, we can look forward to another "Golden Age of World Commemoratives" when we have favorably solved our present social and economic problems.

Some of the world's countries having issued commemoratives in the 1930s have never again been heard from. These are countries like Albania, Brazil, Estonia, Iceland, Lithuania and Uruguay. Poland didn't issue a true commemorative until the thirties, and only in 1960 has been heard from since. Sweden issued commemoratives up to 1938 and then suffered a long period until 1952 before another was created. Many other instances can be found in Austria, Belgium, Germany, etc.

Of immediate concern now is the present decade 1960 to 1969 and how it will compare to the other decades. But we are certainly on shaky ground in attempting to predict the future. The graph does show a materializing although somewhat unsteady trend in the number of commemoratives issued, a gradual increase beginning from 1946 that is disturbed only slightly by 1954, 1955 and 1956.

We can be somewhat heartened in the knowledge that by March of 1960, four commemoratives had been released by two countries, Israel and Portugal. If Austria and Germany remain faithful to their precedents we will possibly see a number more. But will we ever again reach or surpass the golden age of the thirties? Who knows, but it will be interesting at least, being onlookers to the things that are to come. Perhaps these coming events, after all, do cast shadows before them.

A Rare Variety of Mexican Eight Reales

By

T. V. BUTTREY, A.N.A. No. 23401

THIS piece is struck from a recut die. That in itself is not very surprising. From the earliest times in Mexico reusable dies were recut to suit the circumstances. By "recut," which I use here in the narrow sense, I do not mean broadly the working up of any detail on a worn die, but specifically the alteration of some significant detail. Most frequently the last digit of the date is altered when a die is held over from one year to the next: There are literally dozens of overdates in the Mexican coinage, in gold, silver, and copper, from the end of the sixteenth to the beginning of the twentieth centuries. (However, I know of no overdate since the reform of 1905.) They are found in all denominations as well as all metals (except nickel?), and they form one group of evidence for the establishment of the sequence of dies in the Mexican mints.

More uncommonly, when a new assayer took office, there was no reason why his initials should not be cut over those of his predecessor on otherwise good dies. We would expect this to have happened, ex hypothesi, and in fact a few cases have been noted. Christensen, in his very valuable catalog, "Silver Dollars of Independent Mexico" (New York, 1958), lists only one sure case, his No. 829: 8 R Pi 1849/8 PS/AM. I can add to this four other examples from my own collection:

8 R	Ga	1843/2	MC/JG
8 R	Go	1880	SB/SM
8 R	Mo	1836	MF/ML
$1	Mo	1870	M/C

(Additional instances will be found in other denominations.)

Given the continual turnover in mint assayers, it is likely that further examples will come to light; it is equally likely that some dies were carefully recut so as to obliterate the under-legend, and we will never read them as recut at all.

Now the coin which I publish here. First, the date is altered — from 1891 to 1896! This is strange — where had the die been the preceding five years? Second, the assayer's initials are recut, too. Those initials, RS, the proper initials for Guanajuato in 1896, have been cut over ML. (There is a crack in the die at the upper right serif of the M; this must not mislead; the under-letters are otherwise clear and sure.) ML was never an assayer's designation at Guanajuato — how did the letters get on this die? But now the most striking detail of all — and I know no analogy to this — the very mintmark has been recut. Under the G, at its base left and right, can be seen two stands for diagonal uprights; the right hand upright can be seen in part continuing at an angle above the crossbar of the G. Within the small "o" of "Go" can be seen a diagonal line curving at either end. The large under-letter can only have been an A; the small under-letter must be an "s." This coin, manufactured at Guanajuato, was struck from a die first cut for the mint at Alamos. The under-letters form a perfectly good and consistent Alamos legend: 8 R As 1891 M L 10 Ds 20 Gs.

How this die turned up at Guanajuato we shall probably never know. Dr. Pradeau notes, in his "Mexican Mints of Alamos and Hermosillo" (New York, 1934), p.28: "The Alamos mint was closed by order of the federal government on the last day of June of 1895. The machinery and dies were sent to the mint at Culiacán, State of Sinaloa." And this is just what we would have expected. Culiacán was to go on minting for another twenty years, and it is reasonably handy to Alamos, lying below it on the west coast of Mexico. Guanajuato is more than three times the distance from Alamos, and much more difficult to get to.

T. V. Buttrey, New Haven, Conn., is in the Classics Dept., Yale University. One of his numismatic specialties is the coinage of Mexico.

But that the die was somehow brought to the larger mint, over a considerable distance and after a lapse of several years, that much the coin itself proves. The recutting of the die and its use (reuse?) at Guanajuato adds a curious variety unique in its nature to the rich and complicated coinage of nineteenth century Mexico.

NUMISMATIC VIGNETTES

■ Did you know — that two successive Chief Mint Engravers were best known for steel plate engraving done prior to entering the production of coin dies? C. Gobrecht was with the banknote firm of Murray, Draper, Fairman & Co. from 1816 until he entered the mint in 1834. He was head of the Mint Engraving Department from 1840 until his death in 1844. The Gobrecht silver dollars are dated 1836 to 1839. According to The New York Historical Society's Dictionary of Artists in America, J. B. Longacre's major accomplishment was The National Portrait Gallery of Distinguished Americans which he published between 1834 and 1839, and which contained a number of his engraved portraits. He succeeded C. Gobrecht as Chief Engraver at the Mint and retained that position until his death January 1, 1869.

■ The stress on choice condition of collected coins is a rather recent development if we can be guided by the following quotation from the introduction to The Coinage of the European Continent, by H. C. Hazlitt, London, 1893: "Some collectors of the new English or British school began at the beginning, and persevered unflinchingly to the very end; some drew the line at the Stuarts, others commenced with the Georges; a certain number preferred gold, a certain number silver, a few, copper only; many were omnivorous. The majority, however, were not very fastidious, so long as a coin was legible and cheap. Here and there condition was a postulate to a moderate extent; in one or two instances it was peremptory."

■ Why was the motto IN GOD WE TRUST omitted from the 1907 and early 1908 Saint-Gaudens type eagles and double eagles? A well-known book on U.S. coins tell us that President Theodore Roosevelt personally objected to the use of the Deity's name on coins, thus implying that the President was responsible for the omission. It is true that Roosevelt took a personal interest in the designs for these coins. Be that as it may, a different reason for the omission is suggested in the following quotation from The Reminiscences of Augustus Saint-Gaudens, 1913, by the great sculptor's son, Homer. "Finally he (Augustus Saint-Gaudens) attacked the difficult problem of the inscriptions by placing upon the previously milled edge of the coin, in one case, the forty-six stars and, in the other, the thirteen stars with the E PLURIBUS UNUM. The motto IN GOD WE TRUST, as an inartistic intrusion not required by law, he wholly discarded and thereby drew down upon himself the lightning of public comment. It is interesting to discover in regard to this that Secretary Salmon P. Chase received quite as severe a censure for placing the words upon this coin as was aroused by their removal." The public protest over the omission resulted in 1908 Congressional action requiring the motto to be replaced on the coins.

Incidentally, Homer Saint-Gaudens states that it was after his father's death on August 3, 1907, that the Mint started striking the lower relief double eagles. His father's assistant, Henry Hering, protested to Mint authorities but they affirmed that the high relief striking was costly and impractical. Hering persevered until the matter was brought to the attention of President Roosevelt, who had little choice but to agree with Mint Director Frank A. Leach — the lower relief coins endured. — GLENN S.

A Chicago bank was advised in July that Banco De Mexico one peso notes are no longer available. They are being withdrawn from circulation, to be replaced by silver coins. Presumably the five pesos and higher denomination notes will continue in circulation.

Notes & Queries

"We Collectors"

Dear Mr. Bradfield:

I am in the U.S. Navy and at present aboard ship in Japan which makes my Numismatist arrive late. In fact, I just received the June issue and I feel I had to write you in regards to that "joker" Anonymous (p. 737).

He starts out by saying "he is not one to complain," then goes into his babbling. He complains about all his checks and letters being returned. In his "example" he says he sent for only "five rolls of 1958 plain nickels" and the poor soul had the prices jacked up to $9.00 a roll.

Now the thing that really floored me was when he wrote his last paragraph and said: "'Profiteers' will ruin the coin collecting hobby if we collectors (italics mine) don't watch it!"

I collect two sets, or try to, each year for my two children. If Anonymous does the same, he sure is loaded with kids because two hundred nickels are a lot of coins in my book. Does he consider himself a collector, investor or profiteer?

New Hampshire Cent Copies Made

A limited number of copies of the William Moulton New Hampshire cent have been struck by the Copley Coin Co., 581 Boylston St., Boston 16,

Mass. They are in both bronze and silver. There are but two originals, one in the Johns Hopkins museum and the other, discovered several years ago by the Copley firm, in the hands of a prominent Cleveland collector. The copy is readily identifiable by the word "Copley" on the reverse in small letters. No other copies or electros of the coin are known.

New Canadian Coin Company Formed

Somer James and Nicholas Gerbinski announce that they have taken over the complete ownership of the International Coin Co. of Winnipeg, and will operate under the new name of Regency Coin and Stamp Co., Ltd., 157 Rupert Ave., Winnipeg. There is no connection between the International Coin Co. of Toronto and the new firm. Publishing activities will continue under the names of the Canadian Numismatic Publishing Institute which has issued the Guide Book of Canadian Coins, Currency and Tokens, now in its second edition, and the Numismatic Guild of Canada which has published Cash for Your Canada, Newfoundland and United States Coins and Bills; also in second edition. Additional books will be printed within the next two years, according to the announcement.

Reductio Ad Absurdum

Dear Editor:

Two rare mint errors, proof sets with coins missing, have been found by Worcester, (Mass.), collectors. Last December Julie J. Wnukowski of 67 Loxwood St. found one of his 1958 proof sets had the quarter piece missing. In June, Harold G. Brule of 5 Carlstad St. noticed his recently purchased 1960 set had the dime missing. This set is also the small date variety.

In the past reports have been made of proof sets assembled with two nickels and no cent; two cent pieces and no nickel, and two dimes and no nickel, but no notice has been seen here of sets with pieces omitted.

Much has been written in coin publications on the advisability of looking at each proof set in your possession. Some reasons were that sets could be inferior, i.e., have tarnished or carbon spotted coins. Also mentioned was the fact that some sold as such were not proof sets at all, but several coins simply stuck to a piece of cardboard.

Now this can be added as another reason. If you do not check sets, you are apt to let some valuable and interesting numismatic material slip through your fingers.

Both of the above mentioned sets were purchased, unopened, from dealers.

— E. J. VASKAS, Coin Editor
The Evening Gazette
Worcester, Mass.

[Editor's note: I suppose the most desirable "mint error" proof set is a "mint sealed" one with all coins missing!]

Burglaries

Among coins taken in a burglary of Harry O. Werth's home, 1102 Morningside Ave., Pittsburgh 6, Pa. July 13 were Liberty head dimes in proof from 1892-1915, 1895 proof dollar, 1922 double eagle unc., 1885 gold dollar, unc., late proof sets, rolls of unc. 5¢, 25¢ and 50¢ pieces. A reward is offered.

Within a short space of time, four coin collections in Atlanta, Ga., have been reported stolen. Max Tendler, 3645 Peachtree Rd., N. E., says his large collection of proof sets, mint sets, gold coins, paper money, choice U. S. coins and foreign pieces were taken May 8. He is offering a reward for recovery.

Gold "Coins" from Outer Space To Go into Third Year

Plans are now under way to mint the gold "celeston" for issuance around the end of this year and dated 1961. 504 coins were minted in the first year (1959) and 200 coins in 1960. James T. Mangan, of 3600 W. 96th St., Evergreen Park, Ill., reports the "celeston" has been distributed to nearly half the states in the union and some to foreign countries.

The "celeston" is made of .900 fine gold, 9/16ths inches in diameter weighing 34 grains and containing approximately $2.50 worth of gold in each piece; 36 dies were made before final coins were struck. Mangan insists he did not mint the "celeston" for purposes of profit. He founded the Nation of Celestial Space in 1948, and legally recorded his charter to all space in the sky at that time. Among his many other activities he minted the "celeston" to prove that his nation, like any other nation, has the right to issue its own money. But no Celestial paper money is in prospect.

To prove, however, that the celeston was a coin and that it could be used as money, he has in individual cases issued Outer Space Scrip, backed by the gold "celeston," and with due bills from merchants and others purchased goods and services.

Hydeman of York, Pa., and Miami Beach, Fla., and contains rarities such as the 1894-S mint dime and the 1876-CC mint 20 cent piece. Coin Collecting Is a Hobby

Dear Mr. Bradfield:

I read with a feeling of warmth and approval Mr. Schilling's note on "Coin Collecting as a Hobby" in the June, 1960, issue of The Numismatist.

I began collecting coins seriously only three years ago but quickly began to lose interest when I became aware that "the way" to collect coins seemed to be to hoard rolls and proofs with the profit motive in mind. This is a hobby? I find that even some collector-friends note first the monetary value of a given coin and secondly give passing reference to a vague history associated with the coin.

I, for one, plan to collect coins in my own way—the traditional and only good way. I will not help the profiteers perpetuate the destruction of coin collecting as a hobby.

versary. Order at 50¢ each from Roy C. Small, Shawneetown Sesquicentennial, P. O. Box 448, Harrisburg, Illinois.

Last of the Farthings

Because it has lost its usefulness in economic life, the farthing (fourth of an English penny) is to be struck no more. Since the time of Edward I in the thirteenth century, the coin has been a part of the British monetary system and has been made in silver, copper, tin and bronze.

Reward Offered If Stolen Coins Are Returned

Gentlemen:

Will you please publish an item regarding a recent theft from my home of sixteen pieces of 1861 date silver, gold and minor coins, all encased in special plastic holder.

This holder, in a black woolen slip case, was enclosed in a Manila envelope. The silver coins included one rare, original Confederate half dollar, and two restrikes of the same. Also attached to the plastic holder was an original, small size, C.S.A. mint envelope, New Orleans, La., with the notation: "from Memminger" hand written in black ink, and two hand-written notes to me from two prominent numismatists, saying that the original Confederate half dollar was hitherto unknown and would like to buy it ($2,500 offer from one; $3,000 from the other). Other coins in the holder are regular U. S. issue 1861-O half dollar, and the following Philadelphia minted 1¢, 3¢ (silver), one-half dime, dime, quarter, and dollar. Gold coins included: $1, $2.50, $3, $5, $10, $20, all Philadelphia mints except the $20, which was "O" mint.

I offer a reward of $6,000.00 for the return of these coins in their original plastic case, or separately.

A gentleman, residing at Edgartown, in looking over some papers left by a deceased mother, came across a ten dollar bill on the Warren Bank, of Warren, R. I., dated August 4, 1804. The bill was left in the family over forty years ago by a man boarding with them, who, it is supposed, went to sea and never returned. Since it has been found, it has been mailed to Mr. Carr, the present cashier of the bank, who pronounced it a genuine bill, and returned one of the same amount of a recent date. A.N.A. REPRINT BOOKS

Here is added information on the four books the American Numismatic Association is publishing. Contained in each book are a number of outstanding articles reprinted from The Numismatist of the last seventy-two years. Prices and details for ordering are given below.

FIRST BOOK: This book will contain articles from back issues of The Numismatist on coin collecting in general, on United States coinage, and on specific U. S. coins. A few examples of article titles are: "Amateurs in Numismatics"; "Numismatic Firsts in the History of the U. S."; "Collecting U. S. Large Copper Cents"; "The Dollar of 1804"; "Types of U. S. Dimes and Their Designers"; "The United States Eagle and Half Eagle"; "A Brief Review of Commemorative Coins"; "The Making of Dies, Coins and Medals"; "United States Pattern Coins." Total, about 300 pages, with illustrations contained in original publication.

SECOND BOOK: Continuing United States subjects, the second volume will contain reprints of articles on paper money, medals, tokens, early American coins, tokens and paper money, private gold coins, and miscellaneous subjects.

PUBLISHER: The American Numismatic Association through its special Reprint Publishing Committee: Charles M. Johnson, Chairman, P. K. Anderson, Elston G. Bradfield, Richard S. Yeoman. The Whitman Publishing Company will produce all four of the reprint books under the direction of the committee. Whitman's record in publishing numismatic books leaves no question about the quality of these books, and contributes to their low cost.

PRICES: The two books on United States subjects will sell at $3.75 each to nonmembers, and to A.N.A. members also after the special price of $2.75 each expires October 15, 1960. Dealers will receive quantity discounts from Whitman, which will distribute the books through its regular channels.

A.N.A. MEMBER ORDERS: Send orders for either or both books on United States subjects, with remittance of $2.75 each, to Lewis M. Reagan, General Secretary, P. O. Box 577, Wichita, Kans. Orders at the A.N.A. member discount price of $2.75 must be postmarked on or before October 15, 1960. Make remittance (do not send cash) payable to American Numismatic Association; state which United States book or books wanted; give your A.N.A. number; type or print name and address to which books are to be mailed. Limit: One book of each title only at the special price to A.N.A. members.

SHIPMENTS: All orders received from members at the special price will be shipped from the Whitman Company as soon as the books are ready. It is expected that this will be about October 15.

GENERAL: Although the reprint book project was started only a year ago at the Portland convention, Charles M. Johnson had done much preliminary work on his own before that time. He presented his idea to the Executive Board, which readily endorsed it and set up two committees to select articles for reprinting, and the publication committee already named herein. So diligently did the members of these committees apply themselves that an essentially finished report was made to the Board at its April 30 meeting in Detroit.

There it was decided to publish the reprints in four volumes — two on United States subjects, one on ancient and medieval coinage, and the fourth on modern foreign subjects. Contents and costs have been decided upon for the first two books, with further details of contents, costs, and publication of the third and fourth to be announced later.

Members of the Reprint Advisory Committee which selected articles for the two United States books are: Charles M. Johnson, Chairman, Long Beach, Cal.; Vernon L. Brown, New York City; Bryan O. Burke, Jr., San Bernardino, Cal.; James J. Curto, Grosse Pointe, Mich.; Charles V. Kappen, San Jose, Cal.; Harry M. Lessin, Norwalk, Conn.; Eric P. Newman, St. Louis, Mo.; William A. Philpott, Jr., Dallas, Texas; Glenn B. Smedley, Oak Park, Ill.

Enthusiasm for the project and the certainty that the books will put valuable information in the hands of so many members has spurred work along. Perhaps the importance of the project and the eagerness of those who worked on it are summed up in the question, "Why wasn't this done sooner?"

Send your order promptly to the General Secretary for either or both books, at the reduced price of $2.75 each. It is unthinkable that a greater bargain in numismatic knowledge will be available to you again.

Book Review

"The Coins of the British Commonwealth of Nations, to the End of the Reign of George VI, 1952, Part I, European Territories" by F. Pridmore, 100 pp., fully illustrated, 9¼ x 7¼ ins., stiff covers, Spink & Son Ltd., 1960, £2/10.

It is with more than the usual pleasure that I welcomed the arrival of my copy, for I feel a special interest in seeing the final result of a project I first mentioned to Mr. Pridmore in our correspondence during 1954.

At that time I was struggling along with my British Commonwealth type collection, using the out-of-date Coins and Tokens of the Possessions and Colonies of the British Empire by James Atkins, published in 1889, and wishing for a complete and up-to-date reference. Very little has been written on the subject of British colonial coinage since Atkins, and that little was in widely scattered works of small editions, and were not readily available to the average collector. Now six years later I have my catalog, the work on which survived the loss of part of the author's library and the chore of writing in the heat of Aden.

A map on page two locates the different territories covered, namely: Isle of Man, Lundy Island, the Channel Islands: Guernsey and Jersey; Gibraltar, Malta, the Ionian Islands, Cyprus. It should be of great help to those not familiar with that part of the Commonwealth.

The listing of one denomination through all the reigns is a great improvement over the former practice of cataloging all the coins of a reign together, and is sure to meet with the approval of collectors who tend to keep coins by size and value.

Coins of each country have their own numbers, with proofs a letter after the number of the currency specimen. Complete obverse and reverse descriptions are given, and also included are details of edge type, size in millimeters and tenths of millimeters, weight in troy grains and grams, metal and its composition.

The inclusion, where known, of the number of pieces struck is a most welcome addition. It may come as a disappointment to many collectors accustomed to the standard works on United States and Canadian coins which appear yearly, that no prices are given. However, it must be kept in mind that in a scholarly work of this type that will remain as a standard reference for many years, prices would soon be out-of-date and worthless. To the collector worried about rarity, the coinage amounts, in most cases, will give a good indication of the relative values of the different issues.

Tokens, patterns, trial pieces and mules are included following the regular currency coins, and a most helpful aid for the advanced student is the inclusion of a short bibliography at the end of each country. Cuts are generally excellent, with all the major types shown. The many rarities included in the cuts are probably the greatest number between two covers ever included in a work on the British Commonwealth coins, and heretofore would have required the collector to have a vast library to include all of them.

The treatment of the background material of each territory, giving as it does the arms, motto, history, coins and currency and tokens, is most helpful in giving the collector the reasons for the different types and designs of the issues.

The new treatment of the denominations of the Ionian Islands is most welcome, thought it may come as a surprise in some quarters. The presently used denominations of thirty oboli silver, ten, five, two and one half oboli, and one obolus copper are replaced by their new and correct values: thirty lepta in silver, two oboli, obol, half obol, and lepton or fifth obol in copper. In addition the little-known lepton or quarter obol is listed, this piece being the only one of the Ionian Islands copper to include mark of value on the coin.

It has been the privilege and an honor for this reviewer not only to go over the first draft of this work, but also to check the final proofs. It is his belief that it is as complete and correct as it is possible to have made it.

The other sections covering the rest of the Commonwealth are now most eagerly awaited, and if up to the high standard of Part I, am sure that my long ago wish for a complete work of reference on my chosen series will have been realized. The way should thus be paved for other collectors to take up a most interesting field of study. The author is to be congratulated for publishing a long overdue work.

Part II, covering the Asian colonies, less India, is now in the proof stage, and should be published by the end of 1960. India, a part in itself, will then follow. Other parts, dealing with the African, Australasian, and American coinages are in the draft stage, but may not necessarily be issued in that order.

Numismatic Impressions — II

Hong Kong is a shopper's paradise, where many things are cheaper than if you bought them at a factory where they were made. But here coins are high. Some buyers manage to purchase more reasonably only because they were able (and so inclined) to manipulate currencies of one kind or another.

This is a free port and everything goes. Gold is very high, being held, in all likelihood, for the adventurous soul who will smuggle it into India where the price is even higher. Since many of these people live by their wits, one must be prepared before attempting to trade monies. It is not worth the candle.

U. S. trade dollars, once in plentiful supply, are scarce. The chop marked specimens, which American collectors prefer, are less expensive than are perfect pieces. All, however, seem to be disappearing from the market.

Hong Kong is a good place to acquire foreign exchange but travelers should first ascertain how much currency they will be allowed to bring into the countries they plan to visit. They take your word for it but insist on signed declarations.

Bangkok and its friendly people offer many nooks and corners which conceal the old, odd and interesting coinages familiar to many of us. Contacts made here will produce a supply within the next few months. The great difficulty here is that old coins must be photographed and checked by the Ministry of Education. Those not in the National Museum will not be allowed outside of Thailand. Naturally, the museum needs many coins as it is a new project.

In Nepal, a primitive and unspoiled country in the Himalayas, our holiday began precariously as our DC-3 was over Khatmandu on time but was unable to land because of low clouds. After circling in this "land of nine thousand peaks" for two hours, the able Sikh pilot brought us safely to a smooth landing. Not numismatic — but quite an impression.

There are a number of old coins of Nepal available at the money changers in the market place. Many are worn but one can select the better pieces at reasonable prices. Choice examples are hard to find. Here and there one finds recent gold coins which can often be acquired in choice condition and fair prices. Many coins have been used as charms or have been otherwise mutilated. One does find a few coins of Tibet, Japan and India but surprising few of the former.

Tibet borders on Nepal but no planes fly between the two countries. Automobiles, which are scarce, cannot pass on the few primitive and incomplete roads. One must walk. It takes three to four weeks to get to Tibet from Khatmandu, depending on one's stamina and age.

We visited the big cities of India, like Calcutta and New Delhi and smaller places as Agra (city of the Taj Mahal) as well as the ancient and fairly large shrine city of Banaras. Coins are scarce in India, although crude silver pieces do show up. Mainly, however, we saw the crude copper "junks" of little value and small interest. We did see a few small gold coins of King Akbar but the prices were very high. Occasionally we ran across a Bactrian gold piece, worn or bent but high in price. The owners were not keen to sell, apparently because they seldom acquired gold coins. We left India not with many coins but wiser about their scarcity. —A. KOSOFF

New A.N.A. Slide Set of British War Medals

The Visual Education Committee of the A.N.A., under the chairmanship of John J. Pittman, is pleased to announce the addition of slide set No. 22 on British Campaign (War) Medals to its collection of slide sets available for loan to affiliated clubs.

This slide set is representative of the collection of Dr. John F. Lhotka, Jr., of Oklahoma City who also wrote the lecture notes accompanying the slides, and the following is a quotation from these notes "... military campaign medals form one of the most interesting numismatic series since they combine history and medallic art in a fascinating manner. The British series is especially interesting since it mirrors the rise of the empire in the nineteenth century and its retreat in the twentieth ..."

These fifty slides of beautiful medals and colorful ribbons will provide an entertaining and educational program for clubs wishing to borrow them. For additional information about this and other slides available, write to Michael M. Dolnick, slide custodian, 6720 N. Seeley Ave., Chicago 45, Ill.

Reagan, General Secretary of A.N.A., was a welcome visitor and reported on difficulties in finding a suitable location for the proposed 1964 convention in New York. Some seventy members and guests met the evening of May 23 to observe the hundredth meeting of the Wayne County Coin Club, with a banquet at the Oak Chapel near Wooster, Ohio. Thirteen charter members organized the Club in 1950. It now has over sixty members, but more than a hundred have been members at some time; Edwin Johnson and William Lytle have become Mayors of Wooster since serving as Club presidents. Following the dinner, Edwin Johnson, first club president, spoke on numismatics as a hobby and Mrs. Johnson gave a brief club history. Zody Miller recalled early days of the club, and charter member and grand old gentleman of the club, Wiley Miller, gave some views on the values of a hobby. Coin collecting and study, he believes, go back as far as recorded history, and the hobby of numismatics is better than vitamins for retaining an interest in life. Ernest Spigelmiere recounted some of the club's achievements, such as annual picnic, Christmas party and its work in organizing the Quad City Coin Clubs. Our two hundredth meeting is tentatively scheduled for the fourth Thursday in September, 1968. — LYMAN TUCKER

(Editor's note — A condensation of his talk will be found soon in "For the Good of Numismatics and the A.N.A.") Entertainment was furnished by magician Harris Nathan, well known throughout New York State, who proved once again that "the hand is quicker than the eye." Our next meeting will be on September 27, and we will welcome any collectors who are in the area and will meet with us. — RALPH SHORT

The most important event of the June 30 meeting of Pittsburgh Numismatic Society was unknown to members until Secretary Agnys S. Williams and husband Robert arrived home to find it had been ransacked and coins valued at over $4000 stolen. Included in the loss were 36 proof sets, 1951 to 1959; 36 rolls of Indian head cents and rolls of uncirculated coins; and complete sets of nickels, dimes, quarters and liberty half dollars. The program on Jackson Tokens which Mrs. Lucy A. Kelly had prepared for this meeting had to be postponed due to the illness of her husband, John. The program for the September 29 meeting will be "Talk Cents," with John Speicher talking on large cents, George Harner on Indian head cents, and Edward Stack finishing on Lincoln cents. Our distinguished ex-secretary, Harry C. Bartley, will be the speaker at our annual banquet, scheduled for December 11 at the Webster Hall Hotel. —CONSTANCE A. LEONE, Reporter

Members of Utah Numismatic Society heard a fascinating talk by Robert Grube of the Secret Service on the making of coins—legally and illegally—at the June meeting. He described the involved process used in the mint, from the artist's model and bars of metal to finished coins. In contrast, counterfeiters must work in secret with inadequate equipment and inferior metal. Since ground glass added to base metal may produce a good "ring" in a counterfeit coin, we were advised not to depend on this test. Many counterfeit coins are cast, rather than struck, and they can be detected by a "slick feel" and an imperfection on the reeding where the stem was broken off. —The Utah Mintmaster, C. E. CRANE, Editor

The Youngstown Numismatic Club held a family style picnic at Stitts Pavilion and recreation area in beautiful Mill Creek Park on July 3. President Tom Williams assumed the general chairmanship, with able assistance of the following committees: Steve and Lou Colucci and Bill Hull arranged for plenty of food and beverage; Jim Crawford and Jack Jones as the entertainment committee kept things moving all day; George Smith selected contest and race prizes; club photographers Jackson B. Moody and Bob Reed kept their shutters clicking to record events in color. In defiance of frequent thunder showers, over 170 members and friends attended. The ladies brought covered dishes and the Club furnished ham, buns, coffee, soft drinks, milk and ice cream. The entertainment committee had wonderful programs for all children. Quite a few husbands were surprised to see how far their wives could throw a rolling pin, with a set of cutout mercury dime earrings to the winner. For men, there was a novelty golf driving contest, using giant clubs and plastic balls, which provided many laughs for the crowd, especially when the three winners were given the club and ball they had used as a prize. —FANNIS SMITH, Sec.

The June 25 meeting of Toronto Coin Club was held at the Royal York Hotel. Walter Holmes spoke about the many new clubs being formed throughout the province and mentioned those in Owen Sound, Oshawa and Sarnia. Brace of Hamilton showed some recently acquired coins of the Roman Republic. Mr. Jewett gave a short talk on bills of the British West Indies and showed some five pound notes of Jamaica, Barbados and Trinidad. He reminded paper money collectors that, when they had gone as far as possible in Canadian notes, there are other areas to be collected, such as those he showed. Many are similar to Canadian notes, and some are even from the same plates. —CHARLES KIRK, Sec.

Five applications for membership were received from the twelve guests at the July 7 meeting of the Key City Coin Club at the Windsor Hotel in Abilene, Texas. Slides of American colonial coins were shown by Dr. Pattillo and Jackie Boozer, with narration by Louis Goodwin. Since we show A.N.A. slides frequently, an arrangement has been made to split the shipping costs between our club and those at Stamford and Cisco. A committee was appointed to arrange for a "perfect attendance" medal. —LOUIS R. GOODWIN, Sec. Treas.

ADVERTISERS PLEASE NOTE ALL FOLLOWING CONDITIONS

All correspondence relating to advertising should be addressed to the Advertising Manager, S. W. Freeman, P. O. Box 591, Newport, Ark. Make all remittances payable to the American Numismatic Association.

Advertising Contracts: These are available, covering periods of three, six and twelve consecutive months for display space as listed in the above Table of Rates, and are necessary if the schedule of reduced rates is to apply. If the advertiser prefers not to accept the Contract, such reduced rates will be granted only upon payment in advance for the period desired.

References: All advertisers who submit copy for the first time are definitely requested to furnish therewith banking or other satisfactory references.

Available Space Units: Practical considerations restrict the allocation of space units to those listed in the above table. Any amount of space (subject to any current limitation) is available IF these units or a combination of them are used. Unless contrary instructions are given, copy will be cut if found too full for the space designated; if no designation is made, it shall be understood the amount of space is left to the discretion of the Advertising Manager.

Unless under contract, smaller units than one-half page accepted subject to available space in desired issue.

Deadline: Copy must be received by the Advertising Manager by the 7th of the month to insure insertion in the following month's issue.

Illustrations: All cuts to be provided by the advertisers, care being used to see that they do not exceed in measurement the limits of the space unit desired. The Advertising Manager will, when requested, have suitable cuts made from furnished photographs.

We cannot accept mats.

Miscellaneous: Please furnish copy separately from your letter of transmittal. Advertising copy included in the body of a letter usually has to be retyped for the printer; this should not be required. Mail Bid Sales listing not acceptable. It is also the policy of the magazine to limit its advertisements to those of numismatic character.

Preparation of Copy: Advertising copy should be prepared with minute care. Carelessness invites error—something which both advertiser and publisher are anxious to avoid. Use only one side of the sheet. Send originals, not carbon copies. Use only paper of good quality, and not of extremely light weight.

In the absence of an Advertising Contract, when payment in advance for any number of consecutive months has been made, if change of copy has not been received by the 7th of the month for the next issue, the latest preceding advertisement will be run.

Advertisers may use a trade name, but, except in the case of an incorporated concern, the name of the proprietor or some other responsible person connected with the firm must also appear in the advertisement.

The right to edit copy, to require payment in advance, and to decline any advertisement is specifically reserved.

Dear Collector:

RE: Public Auction Sale
Milton A. Holmes Collection

We are all familiar with the expression "Collector's Luck." No doubt most collectors feel that they have experienced too little luck during their collecting careers. One reason is, of course, that the opportunities that come a man's way are frequently missed. We believe that the dispersal of the Holmes Collection of Foreign and United States coins provides an opportunity that the wise connoisseur will seize while he has the chance. We at Stack's have handled many interesting numismatic properties over the years and feel qualified to recognize the unusual when we see it. As the years roll by the true Numismatist seldom has the chance to buy from a collection formed over a long period of time. The Holmes Collection was begun at a time when really choice material was not difficult to find. The fact that it has at last been made available today should be regarded as an excellent example of Collector's Luck. The breath-taking quality and distinction of the coins are the hallmarks of the true "Old Time Collection." A decade and more ago such collections were not unknown on the market. Today they are rarer than the individual rarities that give them a unique distinction. We hope that you will recognize that here you are faced with an unusual opportunity. We also hope that you will not have cause to regret a missed chance to reinforce your own collection with some of the gems that you may not encounter again for years, and then only at greatly increased prices.

In considering the Holmes coins as a whole, we cannot help being impressed with the unusual variety of pieces available. The Foreign Gold alone exists in a quantity that would make an unusual Sale. There are over 1,500 pieces that reflect the numismatic and political history of the Ancient, Medieval and modern world. Roman Aureii and Byzantine Solidi are particularly well represented, while the smaller South American gold series, European hammered gold and later coins are very attractive. They will be sold in the First and Second Sessions on Wednesday afternoon and evening, October 5th.

The Third Session on Thursday evening, October 6th, will feature Half Cents, Large Cents and Minor U. S. Coins. Again the quality of these pieces is remarkable. This Session should provide a field day for the advanced collector who is interested in really superb early Large Cents. There are over 100 in Mint State alone dating from 1794. There are also 26 varieties of the 1794 and outstanding examples of the 1793 and 1799. Among the Half Cents will be found a 1793 in choice Uncirculated and 15 are rare date Proof originals and restrikes. It was a pleasure for the cataloguer to handle these coins. The collector should find them of equal interest.

Dollars and Half Dollars will be offered in the Fourth Session on Friday afternoon, October 7th. In this series Mr. Holmes was particularly drawn to the early issues of the Republic. There are no less than 37 Dollars dated before 1803, two Gobrechts, the Liberty Seated Design in Proof and Uncirculated and many later dates remarkable for rarity and condition. Among the Half Dollars there is a 1794, a 1795 Three Leaf and 8 other varieties of the 1795. The later specimens include many that are Uncirculated and Proof. Half Dimes, Dimes and Quarters appear in the Fifth Session held the same evening. There is an almost complete set of Half Dimes, including 4 varieties of 1794 and 14 varieties of the 1795. It has been years since we have encountered so many choice examples of this delightful small coin. Again, the condition has to be seen to be believed. The Dimes include two 1796, 2 varieties of 1797, the rare 1798, small 8 and later dates in gem condition. Among the Quarters, there is a 1796 in what can only be regarded as a Gem Proof. All those dated before 1839 are choice while the later dates include many in Uncirculated and Proof condition.

The Sixth Session on Saturday afternoon, October 8th, is devoted to Federal, Pioneer and Commemorative Gold coins. Among the Quarter Eagles, there is a 1796 no stars, an 1808 and ten others dated before 1834. The later pieces include the rare 1875 and a nice selection from Charlotte and Dahlonega. The Three Dollar pieces lack only 4 dates to be complete. The Five Dollar series includes 30 coins dated before 1818. There are also many from the Charlotte and Dahlonega Mints and nice examples of the scarce Philadelphia coins struck during the Civil War and after. Among the early Eagles, you will find the 1795, 1804 and many more from 1796 to 1803. The Double Eagles include scarce and popular dates in choice condition. Pioneer Gold is exceptionally well represented. The Commemorative Gold series is distinguished by the Panama Pacific coins to be sold individually.

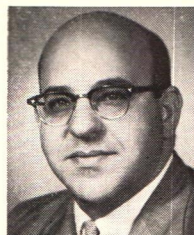

In closing, we would like to point out again the "Collector's Luck" really consists in taking advantage of an opportunity when it presents itself!

The following article appeared in the Hobbies section of the Sunday Star of July 31st, under Coins and Stamps:

NUMISMATIC NOTES

SMALL DATE CENTS—The "hottest" item in the coin business is the 1960 Philadelphia "small date" cent. But it is not as hot as was suggested by the headline "5 MILLION 1960 PENNIES WORTH WEIGHT IN GOLD" in a Washington newspaper last week. Existence of small date and large date varieties of the 1960 cent was first noticed by numismatists in May. When the 1960 dies were prepared the "6" and the "0" of the date were cut too small. They began to clog up as production progressed. The dies were recut after the production of 50 to 60 "small date" cents at Denver and Philadelphia, most of them at Denver. Production at Philadelphia has been estimated at about 2 million. Both varieties appear in proof sets prepared only at Philadelphia. The difference between the large and small dates is most obvious in the "6." In the "large date" the top curve of the "6" sweeps up and over toward the "0," which is also larger than that in the small date variety. Retail prices for the "small date" 1960 cent in brilliant uncirculated condition, now range up to $3. Buying prices, are of course less and there is little market for the circulated coins. "Small date" Denver cents (those with a small "D" under the date) have practically no premium value. Collectors are naturally checking any 1960 coins which come their way for Philadelphia "small dates," but they are not likely to find any cents "worth their weight in gold" in their pocket change.

— B. M. DOUGLAS

The above is the same information that was given to the wire service. Am writing this so my many friends and customers will not blame me for what was sent out under my name. As a result, we have received thousands of letters, cards, phone calls, telegrams, and worst of all packages with coins in them, wanting $8 and up as was mentioned in the release by the National wire service. We feel obligated, although through no fault of ours, to answer all the thousands of letters and to return all the coins sent us. By the way, not one "small date" Philadelphia cent was included in the thousands of coins sent us.

One last word—the police in Denver have come across a manufactory that was taking the small date Denver cents, removing the "D" and coming out with a small date Philadelphia cent. We have seen several that could only be detected with the aid of an X-ray defraction machine. So beware of any that you purchase, and be sure that you get a money back guarantee from the seller.

Collectors Prefer America's First Family of Coin Albums The Library of Coins

Complete visibility and complete protection, the two most-wanted features of a coin album, are presented for the first time by The Library of Coins. Bound like books, handsome and compact, each Library of Coins volume displays and protects its coins between two sliding panels of clear, tough plastic. Each coin "porthole" has printed next to it full data on mint mark and quantity minted. Each volume contains a brief background story on the coins, giving both the novice and advanced collector helpful information, including a listing of the rare dates.

Measuring $8\frac{1}{4} \times 6\frac{1}{4}$ ", the volumes are low priced, sturdily manufactured, and permanently bound in a variety of identifying colors for the various denominations. Their compact size permits the storing of a large coin collection in very small space. Backbones are clearly gold stamped so that they are as readily identifiable as are books.

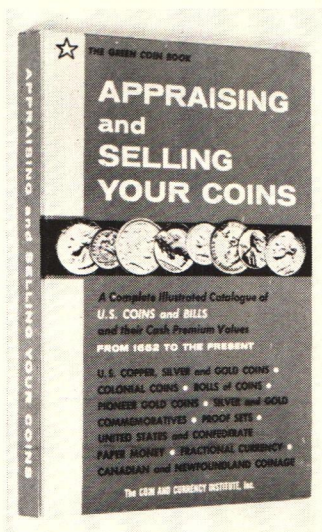

The Library of Coins is the first major innovation in high grade coin albums in more than 30 years. They were several years in development and were designed by numismatists to satisfy the needs and desires of numismatists. Write for a descriptive circular on the Library of Coins.

The Green Coin Book

"APPRAISING AND SELLING YOUR COINS"

a complete illustrated catalogue of U.S. coins and bills and their cash premium values, from 1652 to the present. And the complete coinage of Canada and Newfoundland, from 1858 to the present. Edited by Robert Friedberg.

Hard Cover, Handy Size ($5" \times 7\frac{1}{2}"$), Fully Illustrated, 176 Pages, Price \$1.75

Only in the Green Coin Book will you find the wealth of coin features being published together for the first time in one superbly produced and well designed book, such as you have grown to expect from the publishers. No other similar book, past or present, can offer the variety of valuable coin information presented here so expertly, so completely and yet so inexpensively.

You get not only a complete catalogue of the standard U. S. coins from 1793 to date in all metals, denominations, dates and mints, but also the following subjects, never before assembled into one volume:

- Rolls of Unc. coins from 1934 to date.
- U. S. Paper Money from 1861 to date.
- Colonial and early American coins.
- Confederate States Paper Money.
- Pioneer Gold Coins.
- Canadian and Newfoundland Coinage from 1858 to date.

The Green Coin Book is extremely well illustrated, coinage figures are given alongside each coin and all items show the average prices paid by dealers.

The publication of the Green Coin Book, "Appraising and Selling Your Coins," is a major event in coin literature. It satisfies an obvious need and does it very well. In this day of intense numismatic activity, no one should be without this book.

For only $1.75 you get a new standard work, crammed with so much important information, that you will consult it constantly. It is truly a unique book; it is authoritative, and for what it contains, it is an incredible bargain.

AND NOW HEAR THIS!

BAG COLLECTORS

This Is for You!!

A GLEAMING CHROME RACK

on which you can display

120 BAGS — CENTS TO DOLLARS!

A beautifully constructed sturdy display stand, to permit you to make a breath-taking, prize-winning exhibit of those BAGS now collecting dust in vaults.

What pleasure to own them, if you cannot display them?

Constructed of tubular aluminum, heavily chrome plated. Visible from four sides, thirty BAGS each side. Rises to a very impressive height of nine feet. Collapses to a mere camera-size package!

Of course those BRIGHT, but badly scratched coins inside the bags, cannot be seen, but just picture the impact of those neatly arranged, 120 messy BAGS on your fellow BAG COLLECTORS!

No, I do not manufacture these racks, do not sell them, and have never seen one, and doubt very much there is such a thing. But, if BAG COLLECTING continues to be the National Pastime, someone will just have to build a BAG DISPLAY RACK! Don't you agree with me?

In the meantime, give some serious thought to collecting U. S. CURRENCY. You won't need 120 bags of currency. Just a type set of designs, or some National Banknotes on various states, will afford you tremendous satisfaction. Try it.

Perhaps I can help you. Send me your Want List of U. S. Currency, large or small. Legals, Silver Certificates or National Bank Notes.

Money Talks

IT'S BEEN A LONG time since we left the good old U.S.A. — and we do mean good! We sailed on the S.S. Pres. Cleveland on May 17th for Honolulu and Yokohama.

ED AND MRS. GANS drove up from Berkeley to see us off and "OIL" (the one and only) PARKER closed up the Market St. branch of the San Francisco Mint to help dispose of the champagne provided by many well-wishers.

NO, EARL DIDN'T finish the stuff — we were well supplied all the way across.

EVENTFUL TRIP in many ways, especially numismatically. The result will be some magnificent offerings from Encino this winter and next Spring.

YOU KNOW ABOUT the Schwartz and Bitler Collections of Large Cents — in addition we will have prepared for marketing a few famous collections in other categories.

T. JAMES CLARKE Collection of Swedish Coins — the finest of its kind in America (and perhaps the finest privately held anywhere!)

THE EDWIN M. HYDEMAN Collection of United States Coins of which we could write pages — Suffice it to say (for the moment) that the sale of this collection will make numismatic history.

THE ONE FEATURE we will mention is the Idler Specimen of the 1804 Silver Dollar. Fabulous offers are being made for this coin and we predict that a World's Record will be set for the highest value ever to be obtained for any one coin.

THE OTHER DETAILS will be spelled out in later editions of this publication — keep your eyes peeled — and, whatever you do, don't miss this catalogue.

THE SETTING FOR this important sale — The LOS ANGELES STATLER HOTEL as a feature of the annual convention of the Numismatic Association of Southern California.

THE 1959 SHOW of the N.A.S.C. at the same hotel attracted over 4,000 people. It is the Show which is consistently attracting more people than any other show in the country. That's the place for the Hydeman Collection.

AT THIS WRITING, acquisitions include Japanese, Siamese Odd-and-Curious, Judea, Ancient Greek, Ancient Roman and Byzantine.

A FEW VERY IMPORTANT matters are in the fire, so no announcement until after closing.

ALL IN ALL, a most productive adventure which we plan to share with museums, collectors, and dealers in the forthcoming months.

'Til the Next Time

About October 15th, we expect to be on our way on an extensive "quest for coins." We believe we will be away from the Home Grounds for some months.

In September, we will have a special sale, with competitive buys in Gold, Silver and Copper from the 18th Century up. This sale list will be sent to those on our mailing list.

Others who are interested in really nice "BUYS," in about all series, and all metals, please send us a self-addressed stamped envelope to facilitate our mailing you the sales list of our September Sale.

EARLY U. S. and COLONIAL COINS COLONIAL and CONTINENTAL PAPER MONEY

During the summer, I've acquired some choice and rare colonials, as well as other early U. S. material. I'm now in a position to offer individual items from your want list, or, sets made up to your specifications. In addition to the choice and rare items that will please the discriminating and advanced collector, I can supply the less expensive material for those collectors whose budget allows only minimum expenditures.

Bona fide dealers will find my wholesale lots, made up to their specifications, a handsome addition to their showcases.

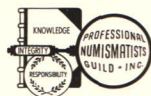

My numismatic library contains a few duplicate books that would interest the serious collector. I am in need of an original MARIS, on the COINS OF NEW JERSEY. Correspondence is invited on this subject.

I'm always in the market to buy choice and rare Early U. S. and Colonial Coins, as well as lots and collections of this material. I collect Large Cents and Colonials in BROCKAGE, and will greatly appreciate being offered any such material.

Your Want Lists and Inquiries Are Respectfully Invited

Items will be forwarded for your inspection and approval, upon the submission of satisfactory references.

THE OFFICIAL SANTA FE METAL - $4.00

The Coin and Currency Institute, Inc. has been named national distributor of the official Santa Fe bronze medal which has recently been released and is illustrated above in its actual size of 2½". It was executed by the Medallie Art Company.

The medal commemorates officially the 350th year of the founding in 1610 of Santa Fe, the crossroads of the great Southwest and the oldest capital city in the United States.

Note the four finely sculptured figures on the obverse, symbolic of the four diverse cultures which have left an indelible stamp on this historic American city - a Pueblo Indian, a Spanish Conquistador, a Mexican Militiaman and an American soldier, all against the background of the famous Santa Fe Trail and the Rio Grande.

The reverse shows a view of St. Francis Cathedral in Santa Fe. The medal is packed in a box and comes with a printed leaflet containing pertinent, historical and educational data.

The price of this bronze medal is $4.00 and it will make a fitting companion piece to the same size official Statehood medals of Alaska and Hawaii, similarly priced at $4.00 each.

SANTA FE SILVER MEDAL. The issue of silver medals has been limited to 2500 serially numbered pieces, struck in pure silver of better than .999 fineness. These are priced at $30.00 each, and are offered on a first come-first served basis and subject to the issue being sold out.

You may order the Santa Fe medal through your favorite hobby dealer or you may write us.

Attention Dealers! Please write for trade discount terms on the Santa Fe medal.

HOW TO VOTE

Like people throughout the world we're watching the U.S. elections with keen interest. How to vote is a question uppermost in the minds of many as voting in the free world is a grave responsibility for each citizen. The free world looks to the U.S.A. for leadership, a fact which makes your responsibility a heavy one.

In serving you we, too, have responsibilities which we don't take lightly. Orders are dealt with promptly — normally within 24 hours of receipt by us. Coins are carefully and conservatively graded. However it is always your privilege to return any items purchased within 10 days of receipt by us.

We guarantee satisfaction or prompt refunds. You may buy with confidence from us! Our advertisements have appeared in this publication on a regular monthly basis for years — longer than any other Canadian numismatic firm.

SPECIAL NOTICE

Am paying up to $900.00 for Commemorative Silver Type sets, up to $2350.00 for complete sets, $850.00 for Comm. Gold sets. By selling me your set, you will get $160.00 for Hawaii, $12.50 for Bridgeport, $33.00 for Isabella, etc. Highest prices also for single coins, part sets, accumulations, any amount. Why sell for less? When better prices are paid, we will pay them.

APPROVAL SHIPMENTS

The easiest way to build up a nice coin collection, at the best values, is with my Approval Shipments. Simply send me a list of the coins you need in any series Half Cents to Gold coins, Paper Money. Or, a list of the coins you already have, if shorter. You will receive a selection of coins on approval, on which you pay $10.00 or more a month, on coins you keep. I send more coins as you make payments. You can stop shipments anytime. If you have no special series in mind, here are a few suggestions that are very popular with my customers:

TYPE SET REGULAR U. S. COINS: One coin of each different design (not dates or mintmarks), Half Cents to Silver Dollars. $6.80 best quality album to hold all these coins, with first shipment, if you want.

TYPE SET U. S. GOLD COINS: Different designs Gold Dollars to $20. pieces. Deluxe plastic holder with first shipment to hold the set.

COMMEMORATIVE HALF DOLLARS: The number one series in U. S. coins. Due to my close margin between buying and selling prices, I believe I move more Comm. coins than any other dealer. After first shipment you can decide if you want to work on the Type set or Complete set. Best Quality albums in stock for either set. Price list on request.

FOREIGN SILVER DOLLARS: Collect one silver dollar for each different country, see how many you can get. Most are still very low in price. $6.00 album with first shipment, if you want.

LARGE U. S. PAPER MONEY: Type set of different designs, disregarding complicated signatures and minor varieties. Send me list of types you have, or send for my type set Check List, on which you can cross out types you have. Friedberg Paper Money Catalogs in stock, illustrating every note, $12.50.

FRACTIONAL CURRENCY: Type set of different designs, easy to collect. Each note housed in heavy plastic holder.

OTHER COINS: A large stock always, all kinds of Cents, 2¢ 3¢ 5¢ pieces, Dimes, Quarters, Half Dollars, Silver Dollars, gold coins, CANADIAN COINS, Foreign gold coins. Good to Proof conditions. Let me know what you need.

PURCHASES: Send collections or scarcer single pieces, by Registered Mail or Railway Express. I will figure them up, and submit best offer and check. Then will hold coins for your reply. If no deal, coins will be returned prepaid. Cannot use very common circulated coins.

Useful for cleaning all kinds of coins, but particularly adapted to cleaning coins of copper or nickel.

EASY TO USE AND ECONOMICAL!
FAST ACTION — IT ACTUALLY CLEANS IN SECONDS!

Does not add shine, but brings out natural color, including original brilliance if it is still there under tarnish or coating. Dull or dark uncirculated coins become brilliant uncirculated coins in seconds.

This result of years of experiment can be safely used on valuable coins to improve their appearance and increase their value.

On sale in many leading stores in 4-oz. bottles, with full directions, at $1.00.

If your dealer does not yet have it, send us $1.00 for 3-oz. bottle (enough to clean hundreds of coins) carefully packed and postpaid to any address in the United States or Canada.

SPECIAL OFFER TO DEALERS
Send $4.00 for six 4-oz. bottles of "CCC," postpaid.

NEW HAMPSHIRE CENT

We have recently struck copies of the famous Wm. Moulton New Hampshire cent which was pictured in the Red Book in the Colonial section. There are only two specimens in existence, one in the John Hopkins Museum and the other piece, which we discovered several years ago, is now in the hands of a well known Cleveland collector. We have never seen a copy or electro of this almost unique item. The pieces are well struck and the word "Copley" is on the reverse in small letters to distinguish it from the original. A limited number of pieces have been struck. Bronze, $5.00 each. And a few specimens in Silver at $15.00 each. We have a large stock of numismatic material. Price list free. Your wants solicited. Please include 25¢ for postage and handling on orders under $15.00.
